

North and South

The third annual South Wales Boat Show is apparently well on its way to hitting its target of 200 exhibitors – and it looks set to be quite an extraordinary event too, with participants as diverse and unlikely as Fairline boats and Sponge Bob Square Pants.

The South Wales Boat Show has the full support of the BMF and National Boat Shows (NBS) and, in recognition of this fact, the event is due to be opened by none other than Andrew Williams, MD of NBS. Several MPs and Welsh Assembly Members are also expected to visit on the opening day (www.southwalesboatshow.co.uk).

Confirmed exhibitors include Fairline with its 38 foot Targer, Sealine, Regal, Rinker, Arvor, Quitex, Warrior, Sae hog, Rib X, Avon, Oceaux, B25, Dolphin, Walker bay, Legend and Jeanneau. The watersports specialist, MasterCraft will also be there, as will RIB-X, Rinker, Regal, E.P. Barrus, Land Rover UK, Ocqueateau, Revenger RIBs, Marine Electronics, Stingray, Sugar Sand Jet Boats, Jenneau, Gekko, Swallow boats, Arvor, EcoSea, Cobalt sports boats and Sealine.

The new sister event, the North Wales Boat Show, is also developing well, with forecasts of at least 100 companies attending. North Wales Water Sports is sponsoring the radio advertising campaign and with John Goode from the BMF due to open the event, its political credentials look impeccable.
